Vol. XX. No. 7.

ST. LOUIS, MO., SATURDAY, JANUARY 30, 1904.

$2.00 Per Annum, Single Copy 5 cents.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES.

Mrs. Mary A. Washington, of 2011A Walnut street, the wife of A. W. Washington, is on the sick list.

Mrs. J. R. Mahoney and Mrs. Joseph Mahoney have been quiet sick for the past few days. They are better now 2841 Howard street.

Rev. Wm. Williams, of New Orleans an Evangelist, preached for Rev. Dr. Cole last Sunday night. His remarks were full of interest, and were listened to very attentively.

Mr. Garfield Craven is quite a nice young man, and is so very polite and kind until no one can refuse to buy a paper from him, when he takes The Palladium around at the First Baptist church.

Mr. George B. Jones, a colored clerk in the city hall, who was promoted from third-class to second on account of his good behavior and efficiency, is really one of the happiest men in town. He receives a hundred dollars a month.

Little Booker T. Jackson, the only child of Mrs. Fannie Turner, of 2011 Walnut street, died, last Monday, at 3:15 a. m. He was four years, ten months and eight days old, and was a bright boy for his age. He was buried in Abon, Ill., his birthplace.

The different clubs at the First Baptist church, namely—Pleasant Workers, Carnation, Ruth and Gentlemen—will begin their entertainments, financial rallies and dinners at once alternately. All monies which are raised by these clubs will be turned over to the church for the purpose of paying on the main debt of said building.

Rev. E. C. Cole preached a rousing good sermon at the First Baptist church last Sunday, 11 a. m., and it is prevalent among his congregation that he is improving every day. The very fact that he can say so many good things in such a short time is a fair demonstration of his ability as a good preacher and a man sent from God.

There will be a financial rally at the First Baptist church next Sunday, and

Rev. Cole wants to raise $1,000, if possible, to pay on the church debt; hence all the members and friends are invited to come and help out this worthy cause. Bring from 10 cents up to $5 to give in the collection, if possible, for the Lord blesses the cheerful giver.

FIFTY THOUSAND NEGRO VOTERS IN MISSOURI.

Several conventions, supposed to be composed of republican editors, have been held here. They talked republicanism in their own way, but not a Negro republican editor received an invitation, neither P. H. Murray, of St. Louis; Prof. Jones, of St. Joseph; W. H. Carter, of Sedalia; W. H. Huston, also of that city, nor J. W. Wheeler, of this city, ever received any information concerning it.

We wish to say that no white man can speak for the Negro. He must be treated fair.

We are with Hon. Kerens, Hon. Filley, Nagle, Parson, Owens, Zeigenheim. Yes even our good congressman, if he will treat the Negro right.

What The Palladium wants is a united republican party.

The Demise of J. H. Hynes.

Death came and claimed Mr. J. H. Hynes, of 1920 Wash street. After many months of suffering, Mr. Hynes succumbed to the call of his Maker, and just as everyone anticipated his recovery, he passed away. Mr. Hynes was loved and respected by all who knew him. He was a faithful husband, an indulgent father, a true friend and a Christian gentleman. Thus one by one we pass into the "undiscovered country, from whose bourne no traveler returns." It seems hard to think that this Christian man battled so hard with the agonies of death for the sake of his wife and children, whom he dreaded leaving to the struggling world, only to give up at last. There is only one consolation, and that is in the promise of Christ that He will be a husband to the widow, a father to the fatherless. He says: "Come unto Me all ye who are weary, and I will give thee rest." The widow should remember that the dearly beloved husband has found rest and peace at last.

Pickett's Headache Powders give instant relief. 2601 Lawton avenue.

CITY NEWS.

Notes and News Concerning Our People—Weekly Record of Social Events, Deaths, Marriages and Births—Written Especially for St. Louis Palladium.

Mrs. J. G. Gardner, of 1317 Clarke avenue, has been quite sick this week.

Mr. Robert Johnson, our enterprising agent, has been sick for two weeks. He is up again.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sullivan have moved from 1314 Clarke avenue to 1330 North Eighth street.

Mrs. Ellen Morgan, of 3038 Morgan street, is still very sick. She is at last called in Dr. W. P. T. Jones.

Mr. W. Jones and Mr. Henry Rees spent Sunday in St. Louis. They run to Chicago on the Palace cars.

Mrs. Laura Campbell, of 2218 Morgan street, has been confined to her bed for three weeks, and is very sick.

Mrs. Sydnor, of 3951 Finney avenue, the wife of Rev. Sydnor, has been confined to her bed for the past two months.

Miss Carrie Carter, of 2731 Mills street, was married to Mr. William Perkins, of 1525 Pine street, on January 18. We wish them joy.

Mrs. Bessie Cotton, of Chicago, who formerly resided at 2638 Randolph, this city, is visiting her mother at 2641 Morgan street. She leaves soon for her home in the Windy City. Her mother is in the best of health.

The Young Ladies' Aid will give a grand masque ball at True Reformers' Hall, Tuesday, February 16, for the benefit of Provident Hospital. Miss Emma Armstrong, president; Miss Beatrice Hadlin, secretary.

Mrs. Johnson, who keeps a restaurant at 1315 Pine street, has had a great deal of trouble recently. Her husband died a few weeks ago. He was employed in a barber shop at 703 Pine street. We sympathize with her in her bereavement.

Little Myrtle Morgan, the loving daughter of Mrs. Ophelia Morgan, is indeed a very smart little one. She acted as nurse while her mother was so sick, a few days ago. She is a jewel. No. 2646 Randolph street.

We trust that all young ladies will try to retain the good opinion others have of them. When The Palladium Man calls, he comes for money, so don't hide from him. The girl on Lucky street knows. Eighty cents isn't worth hiding for.

The "Kids" gave a leap-year party last Monday night. Two or three girls remained away from school to look after the party. It was on Short Market street. We saw! O, yes, we know these would-be women ought to be in bed at ten o'clock. One o'clock is the earliest nowadays.

Mr. G. W. Hood, of 2612 Lucas avenue, is head waiter at the West End hotel, corner Bell and Vandeventer avenues. He is master of the situation. A good many of his friends thought he would hold it. February 1 he will have been there one year, and he expects to hold it another year longer, to 1905.

THE OPPORTUNITY

For Energetic, Ambitious Young Men, Whose Ability and Aspiration Reach Above the Level of Common Drudgery.

It is agreed by all educators and leaders of our race that the only real solution to the Negro Problem lies in our own ability to bid for and receive the trade of our own people.

We must first attain professional and business equality and recognition before we can hope to enjoy other equal privileges.

The embalming and undertaking business offers more inducements and advantages than any other business a Negro man can engage in.

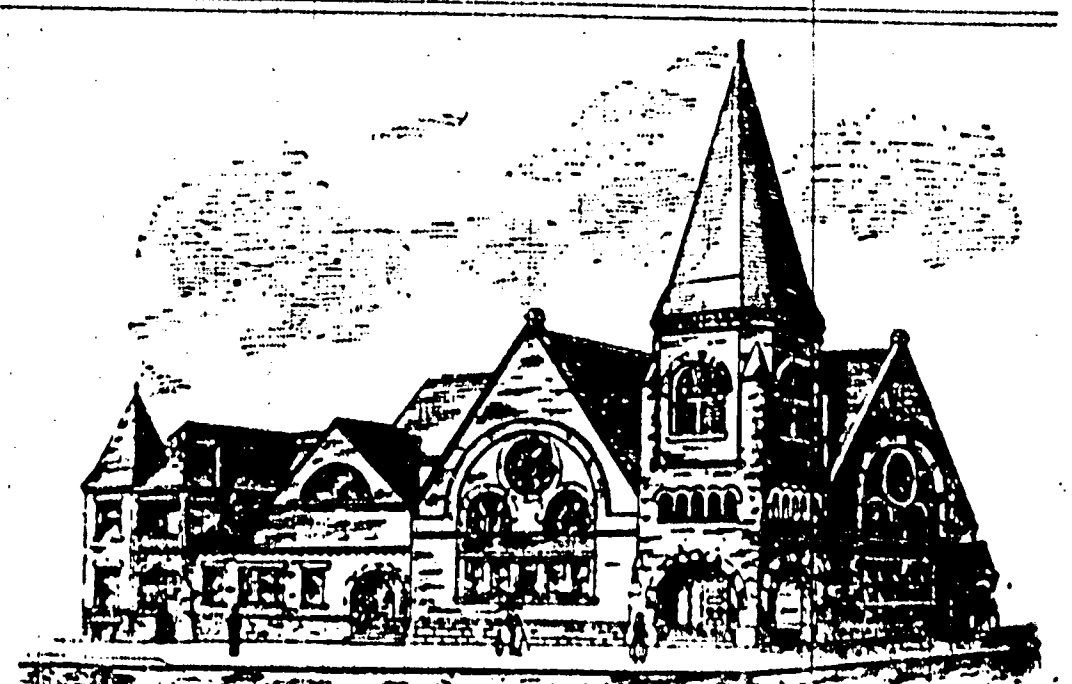

YOUNG MAN, BE INDEPENDENT! BE A BUSINESS MAN! LEARN PRACTICAL EMBALMING!

The field is large. There should be a colored embalmer and undertaker in every community with a colored population.

Albert T. Harris, practical embalmer, lecturer and demonstrator. Thorough individual instruction.

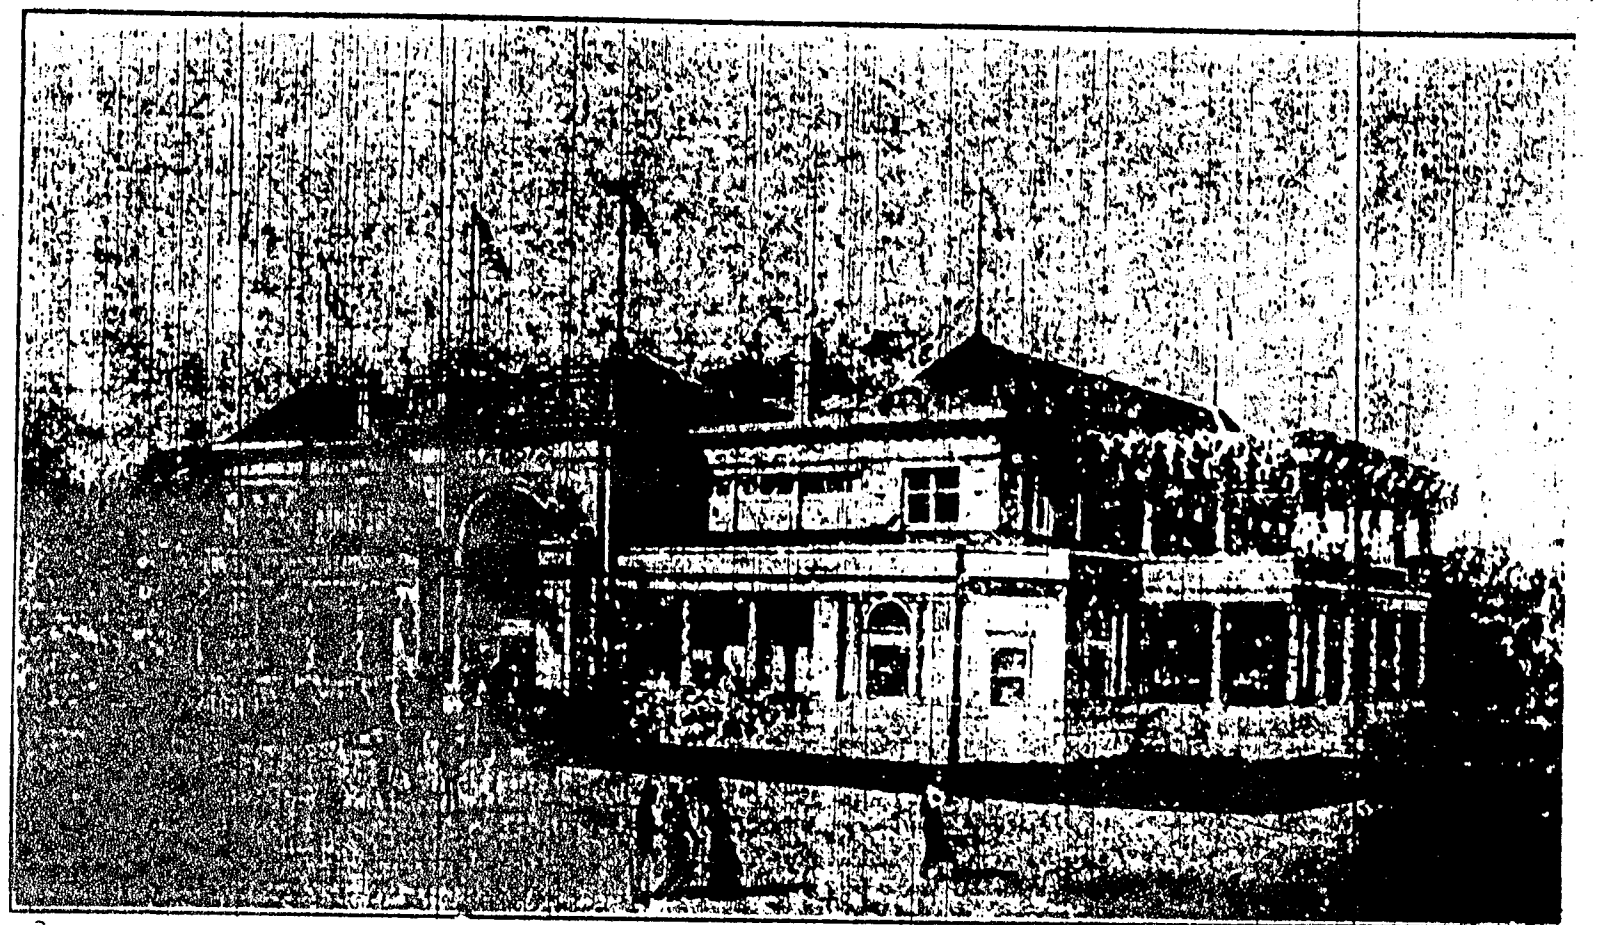

For full particulars address,

HARRIS SCHOOL OF EMBALMING, 2837 Manchester Ave., St. Louis, Mo.

Next May the General Conference of the A. M. E. church will convene in Chicago, Ill. Dr. D. P. Roberts heads the delegation from this conference. We admit that Dr. Roberts will not be elected bishop, but one of three things will happen: First, he will or ought to be a bishop; second, that he will or ought to be a general officer; third, he will go to Chicago, for they want him. These are our bishops:

H. M. Turner, D.D., LL.D.; W. J. Gaines, D.D.; B. W. Arnett, D.D., LL.D.; B. T. Tanner, D.D., LL.D.; Abram Grant, D.D.; B. F. Lee, D.D., Ph.D., LL.D.; M. D. Salter, D.D.; J. A. Handy, D.D.; W. R. Derrick, D.D.; Evans Tyree, D.D.; C. S. Smith, D.D.; C. T. Shaffer, D.D.; L. J. Coplin, D.D. Prospective bishops (predicted by The Palladium)—Johnson, Roberts and Parks.

KANSAS BUILDING.

The Kansas building is to be 80x125 feet, and cost about $30,000. It will be two stories high, and have a large central hall on the first floor. There will be three general entrances. The building will stand directly south of the New York building, and west of the Illinois building. Senator John C. Carpenter, of Chanute, is president of the Kansas commission, and Representative Charles H. Luling, of Topeka, is secretary. The other members are Senator R. T. Simmons, of Caldwell; Senator J. C. Morrow, of Haddam, and William P. Waggoner, of Atchison.

THE PULLMAN BOYS.

F. J. Scott looks well, and is on the Hot Springs special.

J. H. Smith is on Hot Springs special, and is looking well.

Mr. Crass expects to spend 15 days at Hot Springs after the 1st.

Mr. Will Webb, on line 2636, one of the old timers, is looking well.

S. McGuire, who rooms at 324 Montrose, is also a porter. He's an up-to-date dandy.

Mr. Neil Garrett, who runs to Hot Springs on Hot Springs special, says it is on the boom.

Mr. Will Webb another of the Pullman porters, has been with the company for quite awhile.

W. H. Morgan runs out of St. Louis on the Iron Mountain. He is counted one of the rusties on that run.

J. H. Goodrich, one of the oldest men in the Pullman service, is yet giving good service. He looks well for his age.

Mr. A. M. Oliver, of the Vanderbilt system, spent several days home with his family last week. He is well pleased with his run.

W. N. Easton, on line 2552, to City of Mexico, says Mexico is on the boom. He speaks the language well, and is a valuable man to the company.

John Vashen, a Pullman porter, presented Mr. Wm. P. Dyer with a photo of Antonio Maceo, the great Cuban general. Mr. Dyer appreciated it very highly.

Mr. R. B. Stovall, of Twenty-third and Market, has been with the Pullman company since 1889. Mr. Stovall was recently snowbound, and Mr. Banks substituted snow balls for him when he arrived in St. Louis.

Mr. Calvin Wilson, who held the responsible position as head waiter for ten years at Great Northern hotel, in Chicago, is now visiting our city, and expects to take charge of one of the leading hotels in our city. We wish him much success.

Mr. Clinton Wilkins, general manager of the Little Savoy hotel and cafe in New York city, spent the week with Mr. Hugh B. White at the Marble Heart club. He will leave Saturday night for the Springs. On his return he expects to locate in St. Louis until after the fair.

John W. Richardson is Dead.

Another death. For the second time in less than three months the grim monster death has invaded the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Richardson, at 1923 Morgan street, and taken, this time, the beloved son of Mrs. Richardson, who was but 22 years of age. He was a patient sufferer for more than nine weeks. Some weeks ago he professed a hope in Christ, and was baptized and became a member of St. Paul's church. Dr. D. P. Roberts officiated both in the baptizing and at the funeral. Mr. and Mrs. Richardson, brothers and sisters, are much distressed.

City's Oldest Carriage Driver.

The funeral of Samuel Lawson, colored, who was said to be the oldest carriage driver in point of service in the city, was held Thursday morning from the family home, 4030A Finney avenue. The funeral was conducted under the auspices of the Carriage Drivers' union. The deceased was 53 years of age, and had been a carriage driver for over thirty years.

Our Two Mascots.

The children that are loved by all, little Cecelia Bruner and Gertrude Mahoney, at 2836 Easton avenue. They are the most entertaining little ones on our staff.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Smith, of 2631 Randolph street, have two lovely children, named little Frederick W. Smith and little Miretta B. Smith. These two children are the pride of mother and father, and everybody loves them.

Mrs. M. L. Brown, aged 39, died suddenly of heart disease. She was a member of the First Baptist church for years. She leaves two children, Eva and Ora, a mother, a brother, Samuel Few, and a host of friends to mourn her loss. The remains were sent to her beloved mother, Mrs. Marla Carothers, Fewville, Tenn.

MISSISSIPPI BUILDING.

The Mississippi state building at the World's Fair is to be a replica of Beauvoir, the mansion bequeathed to Jefferson Davis on the Gulf Coast by Mrs. S. A. Dorsey. The president of the Southern Confederacy spent the last years of his life there. It was in this typical Mississippi house that he wrote "The Rise and Fall of the Southern Confederacy."

The replica will stand near the southeastern entrance to the exposition grounds. Mississippi was one of the first states to make an appropriation for an exhibit at the World's Fair. Her executive commissioner is Mr. R.

H. Henry, editor of the Jackson Clarion-Ledger. Gov. Longino is ex-officio chairman of the commission, and Dr. C. B. Quinn, of McComb City, Miss., is the vice-chairman, the other members being Frank Burkitt, of Okolona, the secretary; I. H. Enoch, of Jackson, and V. P. Still, of Senatobia.

A COMING EVENT.

Miss Hallie Q. Brown—New Douglass Hall, Feb. 8.

Grand opening of New Douglass hall, Beaumont and Lawton, Monday evening, February 8, 1904. Mr. Jas. W. Grant presents Miss HALLIE Q. BROWN, acknowledged by European and American press the mistress of science of elocution and dramatic impersonation. Supported by an excellent company of artists, in grand recital. Music by the Great Western orchestra. Reception and dance after recital. Tickets on sale at Harris & Mosby's and People's drug stores.
